

Craig Lesser

Albany County

4-H Project Achievement Scholarship

Craig Lesser from Albany County grew up on a farm with parents who were both Equine Veterinarians. He has raised and shown his own sheep, chickens, horses, cattle and a variety of other animals. All of these experiences have instilled in him a love for agriculture and a desire to follow in his parents' footsteps in becoming an equine veterinarian. He is currently enrolled in the animal science program at Colorado State University where he has just completed his freshman year. Craig is an avid skier, soccer player, and holds the Eagle Scout rank in the Boy Scouts of America. One of his community service projects was to restore the 4-H horse show announcer's booth at the county fair grounds. In 4-H he was involved in the teen ambassador program, was a junior fair superintendent, and junior club leader.
