

Jessica Brown

Ontario County

4-H Project Achievement Scholarship

This 10 year 4-H member is a young lady who has a traditional approach to 4-H projects in the areas of clothing, food, home environment, community service and public presentations. Jessica has excelled in all those areas. Her county educator states that her sewing creations have detailed skills that we seldom see any more. Sharing her sewing skills by making pillows for a local dialysis unit and sewing pajama pants for injured Iraq War servicemen are just two ways that Jessica gives back to others. She has also been a great mentor to a fellow club member who is autistic. In school Jessica plays flute in the band and belongs to chorus and National Honor Society. Her future plans will take her to Marist College where she plans to major in English.
